A little about me.

My name is Porscha Anderson. I am a wealth mindset strategist. I help women define their purpose, turn it into profit, and create a life of wealth and abundance.

I had my own hurdles to jump over when it came to achieving financial freedom, but it was that hardship that turned me into the woman I am today. The struggles I faced shaped my money belief story and gave me the strength and knowledge to help hundreds of women overcome their own financial mishaps and start living the lives they deserve.
